

THEY WERE DOING THE MAMBO . . . Ann Leo and Bill Meacham show how the "Mambo Woogie" is done at the Torrance High School production of "Showboat," at 8 o'clock tomorrow and Saturday nights at the THS auditorium. Thirty-six acts are scheduled in the annual production, and tickets are 50 cents.

THS 'Showboat' To Open Friday

Tunes and talent will be in abundance Friday and Saturday at the Torrance High School auditorium, as THS puts on its annual variety show, with the theme, "Showboat."

With Eddie Shaw as emcee, 70 students will participate in 36 acts, ranging from pantomimes to accordion playing.

Acts to be presented include the following:

Bass Sherwood Therman will sing "Old Man River," while Terry Akers will do "Fenthouse Serenade" and soprano Diane Powers will vocalize about "My Hero."

Songs Planned
Juanita Pace will "Make Believe," while a trio—Terry Akers, Jill Moore, and Dick Dawson—"Dream," and Patty Wingard will tell why she "Can't Help Lovin' That Man."

Dancing Toni Forella will show why "I'll be Hard to Handle," and Ann Leo and Bill Meacham will hoof through the "Mambo Boogie."

The "Jolly Caballero" will be squeezed out by accordionist Carl Stimich. Trying to out-Friberg Stan Friberg, Janice Jones, Fay Camp, and Wauthena and Carolyn Duncan will give their version of "Sh-Boom."

Directors Named
Heading the production are Elsa Barlow and Al Legus, student directors, and Von Hershey, faculty director. Emcee

Eddie Shaw also was script writer.

Two brand new backdrops for the production were designed by Elsa Barlow and teacher Richard Oliver.

The show on both nights will run from 8 to 11 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door for 50 cents.

Home Display Award Slated

Turkeys and groceries will be given away for the best Christmas indoor or outdoor decorations in Allied Gardens this year, George Fowler, chairman has announced.

Prizes will be awarded in three categories—religious, lights, and children's—with winners receiving a turkey, and second and third prize winners getting grocery orders from Clark's market.

The Torrance Retail Merchants' Assn. will present a trophy for the most outstanding display, with letters of commendation for winner-up.

Armed with 900 candy canes, Santa Claus will visit the children of Allied Gardens on Dec. 22.

SHEEP SURVIVE

Stork Leaves Four Bundles in Single Block on 176th Street

By ADALINE CORTEZ
DA 4-6876
Mr. Stork has made a full scale invasion of the 4700 block on 176th St.

Four new babies have been added. They are, Paul Coe Farrier, the first child of Jerry and Marty Farrier, of 4239 W. 176th St. He weighed 7 lbs.

Then there was Theresa Marie, born to Cecilia and Bill Stridson and brother Ritchie and sisters Robin and Chris.

She weighed 8 lbs. and lives at 4238 W. 176th St.

Carole Suzanne was the third daughter born to Rusty and Dale Wood, of 4242 W. 176th St., and is the latest addition to the block.

Annabel and Fred O'Leary welcomed Kimberly Anne, who has a brother and sister too.

Thanksgiving was celebrated in the traditional manner by most North Torrance families who gathered around the table with their families and close friends.

Guests from North Dakota were honored at the Joffre Marcel home, at 16711 Glenburn Ave. last week, as Mr. and Mrs. Emory Marcel and son, Richard, visited their son. Also visiting were former neighbors, the Adam Muntos of Hawthorne.

The Cleve Nelsons spent the holidays in a most exciting if not traditional way, at Coronado Island off San Diego, where they attended a bridge tournament.

The James Halle, of 3433 W. 175th St., spent the holidays with relatives in El Centro.

Virginia and John Brown, of 4320 W. 176th St., attended a holiday party, given by the Lear

Co. at the Del Mar Club in Santa Monica.

Lucky John came home with the door prize.

The Horton Jones, of 17025 Faysmith Ave., who bought the Walter Smiths home, entertained friends for Thanksgiving, then spent the remainder of the holiday at their cabin in Apple Valley.

The Charles Wells, with Cathy and Butch went a long way from their home, 16708 Glenburn Ave., to celebrate Thanksgiving with friends and relatives.

They left three weeks ago by train, and are now back from Chicago, and from all reports they had a wonderful time.

Twenty-four guests enjoyed the turkey at the Clair Selgrists, at 16818 Faysmith Ave.

The Albert Pesonas, of 17030 Faysmith Ave., entertained the Doug Wallaces and children from Norwalk at dinner.

Little Michael Wright, of 17024 Faysmith Ave., informed the neighborhood that they were not having turkey for Thanksgiving; they were having a baby! and he did . . . a baby sister, Lavonna Marie, 7 lbs. 4 oz., arrived home in time for Thanksgiving. The boy still had turkey, as guest of the Gill Kennedys of Gardena.

Windy Towell, of 17508 Ermanita Ave., was having too many nice things happen to him to last. He is a new papa and he was well up in the finals in the Western Golf Tournament, when someone decided to put the skids on all this good luck, and walked off with his golf clubs.

PENNY CHILL
... At Harbor Sing

Young Singer To Perform At City Sing

A young singer who hopes someday to go into professional work will appear at the Harbor City Community Sing this weekend. She is 12-year-old Penny Chill, of 3731 W. 176th St.

Having sung since she was five years of age, Penny hopes to take part in light operatic work in the years to come. She now takes vocal lessons from Verna Flynn, South Bay voice instructor.

She is a student at Nativity School, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chill.
